DEMOCRATS OF THE HOUSE STAND FIRMLY BY PRESIDENT

ADMINISTRATION SCORES HEAVILY

Work on Currency Bill Is Concluded In Committee.

INSURGENT PROPOSALS LOST

Measure Will Be Reported by the Committee to the House Democratic Caucus To Be Held a Week From Monday—Minority Refuses to Give Up the Fight and Will Submit a Report.

Washington, Aug. 2.—By a vote of 9 to 5 the Democrats of the house committee on banking and currency rejected the proposed Pajo committee amendment to the administration banking bill prohibiting a member of the board of a national bank from serving in a like capacity on the board of any other financial institution. The vote on this proposition and others taken in the course of the day showed that the administration forces control the committee by a safe majority.

Work on the currency bill was concluded in committee. The bill will come up for discussion in a Democratic caucus to be held on Aug. 11. Present indications are that if of the 14 Democrats on the committee will support the measure in caucus. If the insurgents are unable to make any better showing in caucus than they made in committee they will be hopelessly beaten and the bill will go before the house with the backing of both the administration and the party organization.

Administration leaders are in a happy frame of mind over the outcome in the house committee. A week ago the committee appeared to be hopelessly divided, and fear was expressed that the administration might be forced to abandon the plan to put through a banking reform bill at this time. While no vote was taken on the bill as a whole in committee, noses have been counted and the administration is confident of 11 of the 14 committeemen. It is expected the insurgents will put up a lively fight in caucus, but Leader Underwood has given assurances that the bill will emerge unchanged.

The insurgents lost all along the line. Every one of their proposals was rejected. The Ragdale-Henry amendments, which provided among other things that currency should be issued on cotton, corn and wheat held in warehouses, were dropped without even a division being called for.

Although beaten, the insurgents have not given up the fight. In addition to the report to be made in behalf of the majority by Chairman Glass, a report will be submitted by them to the caucus.

The complete government control of the federal reserve board, which will direct the new banking and currency system, deemed by the president the all-important factor of the currency bill, is retained. At the eleventh hour the Democratic members of the committee incorporated an amendment providing for an advisory board of bankers to advise the federal reserve board. This amendment was in the nature of a compromise with the banking interests, which protested vigorously against the exclusively governmental feature of the control of the board.

His Contribution to Sulzer Campaign Figures In Probe.

The Frawley legislative investigating committee is stirring up things in New York state. In its apparent desire to impeach the governor the committee introduced a check for $25,000 which it alleges was sent by Jacob H. Schiff to swell the Sulzer campaign fund and which, according to the investigators, Mr. Sulzer failed to include in his schedule of receipts and expenditures filed in compliance with the corrupt practices act.

MURDER MYSTERY

GIRL MISTREATED

Body Found In Subterranean Passage of an Old Building.

Berlin, Aug. 2.—The mystery of the disappearance of Elsie Blume, a beautiful six-year-old girl of Einbeck, Hanover, whose body was found in a subterranean passage under a building once used as a nunnery with indications that she had been ill-treated and starved for weeks, was solved when the police arrested a man named Wolters, 52, who purchased the building and built cottages on the property. In one of which the girl's father, a carpenter, lived with his family. Wolters is said to have admitted his guilt, but later repudiated the confession.

FINNEFROCK'S STUDENT BILL NOT ATTACKED NO REFERENDUM ON STUDENT ACT

Attempt to Refer It to People Meets Defeat.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—Defeat crowned the efforts of those who sought to secure a referendum on the Finnefrock bill, which prohibits students from voting while attending college if the institution of learning is in a county other than the one in which his home is located. The 50 days' time in which the referendum petitions on the act could be filed expired last midnight.

Allen Ripley Foote, president of the state board of commerce, attributes the failure to secure enough signatures to the fact that the Finnefrock bill petitions were circulated in connection with the budget commission bill, the time for which expires Aug. 8. His supporters got confused as to the time, he says. "We have enough signatures on petition for referendum on the Warnes and Kilpatrick bills now, and they could be filed today if we wished," was a statement made by Mr. Foote. He said additional signatures will be obtained in order to assure no shortage in case any of the petitions are rejected.

Strike of Teamsters Causes Tieup of Construction Work.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 2.—Construction work in this city has been crippled to a great extent by the strike of the teamsters, which has been on for the last week. Work on five large buildings in process of construction has been suspended, owing to builders' inability to obtain material. As yet little trouble has been experienced, but the inconvenience to business is beginning to be felt. Both the teamsters and owners are issuing daily statements urging their sides to stand firm.

Deputy Fire Marshal Webber Reappointed by Cox.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—J. W. Webber, former deputy state fire marshal at Cleveland, was reinstated in his old place by State Fire Marshal E. F. Deffenbaugh. The change from the Harmon to the Cox regime is responsible for Webber getting back. The former governor had ex-State Fire Marshal Zuber drop Webber, as a result of charges that Webber, who is a ward political captain in Cleveland, had been disloyal to him and had supported Wilson in the presidential race.

TAKING NO PART IN MEXICAN FUSS

Bryan Denies Powers Are Pressing Uncle Sam to Action.

PEACE EFFORTS MAY SUCCEED

Warring Factions in Southern Republic Complying With the Desire of the American Government, Which Believes the Mexican Situation Is Slowly Adjusting Itself—Undue Agitation To Be Discouraged.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Developments in the Mexican situation were confined to efforts on the part of the administration to prevent unnecessary agitation over the revolution. So far as the United States is interested both the federal and state governments are complying with the desire of the American government for the protection of foreigners and their property, and there is a general feeling manifest in official circles that efforts of influential Mexicans to bring about peace may be successful.

In the meantime President Wilson and his advisers are opposed to any attempt to force the American government into any hasty declaration of policy. Secretary Bryan promptly denied a story that European governments are pressing the United States for action.

To prevent any aggravation of the situation, which in the view of officials here is slowly adjusting itself to the administration, it became known, does not look favorably on the proposal to have Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson appear before the house committee on foreign affairs. Administration officials did not think it compatible with the public interest to have Ambassador Wilson appear before the senate committee on foreign relations, not because they hesitated in any way to submit the reports he had made, but because the feeling is growing among them that he is a factor in promoting objectionable discussion in Mexico.

BET HE'S TIRED, TOO.

New York, Aug. 2.—Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, is here waiting for a summons from Washington before returning to the Mexican capital. He was undecided how long he would remain in New York, but announced his intention of remaining in the country and within call of the president, Secretary Bryan and the senate and house committees on foreign relations. "The president told me to take a vacation and I am trying to do so, but I am having a hard time doing it," Mr. Wilson said.

CASTRO REVOLT HELD SERIOUS

Former Ruler Behind the Up-rising In Venezuela.

EXILE SURPRISES WASHINGTON

Navy Department Orders a Cruiser to Proceed to Venezuelan Waters and Look After American Interests. United States Represented at Caracas Only by Legation Clerk—Several Clashes Reported.

Washington, Aug. 1.—In its role as the preserver of order on the Western Hemisphere, the United States, acting through the National Administration, today felt impelled to order the cruiser Des Moines, at Brunswick, Ga., to proceed to La Guayra, the principal seaport of Venezuela, to protect American interests and citizens while the revolution organized by Cripriano Castro, former Presidential dictator of that country, is in progress.

The dispatch of the Des Moines is the first step to be taken by this Government in frustrating the revolutionary designs of the resourceful and indefatigable "bad boy of the Caribbean," as Castro has been called; other warships may follow.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Secretary of State Bryan has been officially advised that Cipriano Castro, one of the greatest trouble-makers of Latin America, has returned to Venezuela and taken charge of the forces already assembled in his name for the purpose of overthrowing the Gomez government in that country.

Secretary Bryan called upon the navy department to rush a ship to Venezuela, and the department assigned the cruiser Des Moines to this duty. She will sail for Venezuela from Brunswick, Ga. Her sailing will be delayed, however, until Henry F. Tennant, now on duty at the state department, can reach Brunswick and board her. Tennant has been given an emergency appointment to act as secretary of legation at Caracas, and will at once take charge of the legation on his arrival. The Des Moines will carry him to La Guayra, which is only 35 miles by rail from the Venezuelan capital.

According to the state department information the Castro revolution is likely to assume serious proportions. Castro is reported to be off shore in a small boat, near Coro. Coro is the port on the north coast, which the revolutionists have seized and made their headquarters.

The Venezuelan government has announced in Caracas that it already has defeated the revolutionists at Coro and Macuro, but these reports are not confirmed. Men are being pressed into the service of the government and hurried to the territory seized by the rebels.

The attempt of Castro again to set himself up in power in Venezuela puts before the Wilson administration a new set of difficult questions. How far President Wilson intends to go has not yet been indicated. Whether he will take a hand in discouraging the Castro uprising is not known.

The United States government is represented in Venezuela at present only by a legation clerk, Richard J. Biggs. Minister Northcott has re-

CANDIDATES FOR MEMBER OF CHARTER COMMISSION MUST FILE PETITIONS BY THURSDAY, AUGUST 7

Ordinance Providing For the Holding Of a Special Election at Which The Question of Whether the City Shall Have a Charter Commission Or Not Will be Determined, Is Certified to Election Board.

RESULT OF SPECIAL ELECTION DOES NOT MEAN A CHANGE

If The Result is in the Affirmative the Commission Chosen Must Formulate a Plan to Submit to the Voters Within One Year and Then the Question of Adoption or Rejection Of New Plan Is Decided.

The ordinance of council passed June 30th, 1913, calling a special election at which the voters of Washington may decide by their ballots whether or not they will chose a commission to frame a charter for the government of the city, was, finally, on July 28th, 1913, certified to the Board of Elections.

This means that on September 2nd next, the voters of this city will declare by ballot whether or not an effort shall be made by fifteen men—representatives of the city and its interests—to serve without compensation and chosen without regard to political affiliations—to frame a better plan for the government of the city. At the same election the fifteen charter commissioners will be chosen.

The result of the election on September 2nd does not determine whether Washington shall or shall not have a new plan of city government. The result will determine whether an attempt shall be made to better the present plan.

Any elector of the city may become a candidate for Charter Commissioner by filing a nominating petition containing the requisite number of signatures with the Board of Elections on or before Thursday, August 7th.

Petition blanks may be had by any citizen who will apply to Mr. Horace C. Ireland, Clerk of the Election Board, at The Fayette County Bank. Before filing the petitions to become a candidate it is only necessary to secure the signatures of forty electors of the city.

The fifteen candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be the charter commissioners.

The duty of the Charter Commissioners is to formulate a plan of government within the limitations of the constitution of the state, which, in their judgment, best meets the requirements of the citizens, and within a year after their election to submit that plan to the voters of the city for approval or rejection.

What the constitutional limitations are, why any one should be opposed to a charter, why some are opposed to a charter commission, what the objections to the present plan of government are and how, if at all, the difficulties in the present plan may be removed are questions which will be discussed and argued pro and con when the proper time comes.

Thursday is the last day on which candidates for charter commissioners can file their nomination petitions.

It is also claimed that the Ironton bridge over the Ohio river is now a certainty. The bridge is to connect the rich coal fields of Kentucky with the B. & O. system.

DUNDON IS OUT ON $500 BOND

Young Man Who Stole Neighbor's Horse And Sold it in This City Released Under Bond in Pickaway County—Says He Wanted Money To Pay Note And Marry Young Woman in the New Holland Neighborhood.

Virgil Dundon, who stole George Curry's horse from the pasturefield near New Holland Tuesday morning, disposed of it in this city and was subsequently arrested here by Chief McCoy, was transferred from the county jail in this city to the Pickaway county jail Thursday night, by Chief of Police Willis Henn of Circleville.

He was later arraigned before Mayor Goeller of Circleville and held to the grand jury under $500 bond. He was remained back to jail in default.

On his way to the jail he confessed to the Chief that he stole the Curry horse to raise money to lift a note of $75 and also to get married.

James Dundon, his father, later appeared in Circleville and secured the young man's release. James Dundon, his son and Harley Colwell are the sureties.

The arrest of young Dundon has almost broken the hearts of his parents and sweetheart, who reside near New Holland, as he has never before been in trouble. The young man himself is on the brink of nervous prostration, and realizes his great mistake.

Cloyd Bordner, the horse buyer who purchased the animal from Dundon, states that he will not prosecute the young man, as he has been paid in full by James Dundon, and it is understood that Curry has also stated that it is not his intention to push the proceedings against Dundon. However, the affair is in the courts and looks very serious for Dundon, as the offense carries with it a term in the penitentiary.

THIGH CRUSHED UNDER THRESHER

Harvey Whitmore, aged 50 years, a veteran threshing machine operator of Edgefield, was seriously injured on the W. C. Fent farm west of Jeffersonville, Friday evening, when the separator passed over his leg at the thigh, crushing it in a shocking manner.

Mr. Whitmore was seated on the tongue of the separator and his son was running the engine. In passing over some rough ground Mr. Whitmore was jolted from his seat and fell beneath the heavy separator, one front wheel passing over his thigh.

He was placed in an automobile and taken to his home, where physicians treated the broken and crushed limb.

This is the third accident which has befallen Mr. Whitmore in the past three years.

MRS. J. JAMISON DIES IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Josephine Jamison, wife of Mr. Jacob Jamison, died Friday evening at six o'clock at the Fayette Hospital, aged 58 years.

Mrs. Jamison had come through a grave operation a few days ago nicely, but a complication of diseases led to a critical condition resulting fatally.

A large circle of friends as well as a wide family connection are shocked and saddened by the news of her death and much sympathy goes out to the bereaved husband and two children, Mr. Tom Jamison, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Snockey, of Chicago.

Both children were hastily summoned and arrived Friday night.

The remains were taken from the hospital to the home of her mother, Mrs. John Curren, on W. Court St., where funeral services will be held Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Burial in the Washington cemetery.

GABRIELLE RAY

London, Aug. 2.—Justice Bucknill in the divorce court granted the petition for a restoration of conjugal rights to Mrs. Eric Loder, better known as Gabrielle Ray, the musical comedy actress. This petition is the usual preliminary to an action for divorce, which, it is understood, will not be defended. Mr. Loder married Miss Ray on March 1, 1912, after she had suffered a nervous collapse and left him waiting at the church the preceding day. Mr. Loder is said to be very wealthy, the family having amassed a fortune in the tallow trade in Russia. He is a grandson of the late Sir Robert Loder, who was knighted by Queen Victoria in her jubilee year.

PLAN CO-OPERATIVE GROCERY CONCERN

A movement launched this week to open a co-operative grocery in this city is said to have gained considerable headway, and more than fifty persons have already subscribed one or more shares of stock in the venture, it is claimed.

It is the announced plan of those back of the movement to incorporate for $5,000 to $10,000 and open a large grocery to be operated by local men, and stockholders will be given 5 per cent discount on all purchases, while those not stockholders must pay the full amount.

Each share sells at $10 and no person is allowed more than five shares. Each man owning stock will be entitled to the co-operative benefit if the movement succeeds.

Within a short time the men hope to have the movement ready to lease a room and prepare for business.

Under plans announced the company is to be organized in the regular manner, with a board of directors chosen by the stockholders.

LAYING SIDEWALKS NEAR GREENHOUSE

Contractors Bell and Blade are busy with the North North street improvement, and the work of laying the new sidewalks and gutters is moving forward quite rapidly considering the difficulties encountered.

At the present time the sidewalks are complete up to the back floral building and will be continued for two squares farther.

Before any telephone poles and wires are put in the sidewalk is now about ended. Some of the property owners made protest about the telephone poles being removed to the place indicated in the plans.

An improvement has been made for improving the street other than the sidewalks and gutters, the cutting and grading at the side will place the street in such a condition that it is believed grading and traveling will be essential in giving satisfaction to those using the street or sidewalks.

WAGON SMASHED IN RUNAWAY TODAY

John Smith, farmer living a few miles south of the city, escaped death or serious injury in a most extraordinary manner about 10 to Saturday morning when his team of horses attached to a farm wagon laden with coal and a barrel of salt, took fright on Temple street and ran away, smashing the wagon to pieces, scattering the coal and salt and injuring one of the horses.

The horses became unmanageable on East Temple street and ran to Lewis street, where the wagon crashed into a telephone pole and was partly wrecked. The wagon then struck the house of Daniel Baker on the corner of Temple and Lewis streets and the smash-up was complete.

Mr. Smith was hurled off the wagon and when the final crash was over was sitting almost uninjured by the barrel of salt. Both had been hurled into the Baker yard. The Wagon cannot be repaired.

FRANKFORT MAN IN FEDERAL HANDS

Thomas Delay, well known Frankfort resident, has been arrested by United States Marshal Schillings, of Columbus, and charged with selling liquor without a government license.

Delay was taken to Chillicothe and placed under $300 bond, which he furnished, and will appear for trial August 15th.

Several months ago the man was arranged for bootlegging, entered a plea of guilty and paid $100 and the costs, besides serving 30 days in the workhouse. The government tax is $25 per year for all who engage in the liquor business.

There Is Still the Opportunity

In this era of general peace when the people are no longer divided into warring clans, when they are banded together in great and powerful nations intent upon the higher pursuits of life and when among the great nations of the earth, there exists a profound peace, which now gives great promise of being permanent, we are inclined, sometimes, to forget that the need of patriotism and the call for real patriots is as strong as it ever was.

People should not think that the spirit of patriotism which controlled men's conduct, "in days of old when Knights were bold," is no longer in demand.

Perhaps the patriotism now required is of a sturdier kind because its exercise carries with it none of the splendid notoriety that it did in days of old.

These days men must perform their patriotic duty without ostentation and without the hope of a noisy and flattering acknowledgment of appreciation by the populace and frequently with a disapproval of the populace, for a time at least.

In these days it is the men and women who stand for principle, regardless of that stimulus which the knowledge of popular acclaim to follow, brings.

The call for humble public service, most frequently perhaps, affords an opportunity for real show of the old spirit.

There is absolutely nothing in the way of reward, save and except satisfaction which comes with the knowledge of a duty performed, in responding to the call for public service.

Too frequently men ignore the call to duty for the sake of business or comfort and allow the public service to drift into unworthy or incapable hands.

The soldier who went forth to battle centuries ago was no no braver than the man, who, in these days of peace and commercialism, will lay aside the pursuit of the dollars and face the shafts of public ridicule and abuse, to honorably discharge a public duty.

To the man of independent spirit, high ideas and prosperous business, the duty of holding petty public office is not alluring. Men who would not hesitate to face a hostile foe on the field of battle will shrink from the disagreeable task of filling a public office.

The call is here right now, as it has been for years, for the men of affairs to make a sacrifice of personal desire and private business for the public good.

A full corps of officers are to be elected in every city in Ohio and men should show their patriotism by agreeing to accept the posts of importance in the service of the public.

Never before has the call for brave men been louder than at present—never have the municipalities throughout the state been in greater need of good men to take up the public service than right now. Never was the danger of permanent harm to be sustained by the choosing of incompetent officials greater than it is at this time.

It is a time for men to make sacrifices for the public good and prove that the reward for patriotism, different, though it is in these days, is sufficient.

Is "Vote For Women" Idea a Healthy Thought?

By Miss MINNIE BRONSON, Secretary of the National Association Opposed to Suffrage

Is woman suffrage a healthy thought?

A large proportion of those who advocate woman suffrage do so because they regard it as part of a general political progress, the LAST STAGE IN A DEMOCRATIC FORM OF GOVERNMENT and to any one who does not allow herself to think what is involved in the assertion that woman is entitled to the franchise because man has secured it this view seems sufficient for a whole hearted support of the cause.

But before such a stupendous governmental change as woman suffrage is accepted as a part of progress and democracy it is wise to determine first WHETHER IT IS PROGRESSIVE IN A BENEFICENT SENSE OF THE WORD, whether it may not be diverging instead of progressing, even though it may seem to be merely the extension of a part already tried.

Also if a political principle, whether democratic or not, carried to its logical conclusion lands us in a state of society which would NOT BE A GOOD STATE OF SOCIETY, then the principle, even if democratic, had better not be carried to such a conclusion.

IN OTHER WORDS, CONFERRING POLITICAL POWER ON WOMEN IN THE NAME AND INTENTION OF PROGRESS AND DEMOCRACY DOES NOT ESTABLISH THAT PROCEEDING AS SALUTARY. IT IS QUITE POSSIBLE THAT THE EXTENSION OF THE FRANCHISE TO WOMEN, WITH ALL THAT IT IMPLIES, MAY HAVE SUCH FARREACHING CONSEQUENCES THAT WE WILL SOME DAY STAMPEDE BACK ON OUR TRACK IN AN EFFORT TO UNDO WHAT WE HAVE DONE IN A BLIND PURSUIT OF PROGRESS.

Poetry For Today

MY CONSCIENCE.

Sometimes my conscience says, says he,

"Don't you know me?"

And I, says I, skinned through and through,

"Of course I do."

You air a nice chap ever' way,

I'm here to say!

You make me cry—you make me pray,

And all them good things that away—

That is at night. Where do you stay

Durin' the day?

And the Conscience says oft more,

"You know me—shore?"

"Oh, yes," says I, a-troimblin' faint,

"You're jes' a saint!"

Your ways is all so holy-right

I love you better every night

You come around—tel plum day—light,

When you are out of sight!"

And then my Conscience sort o' grins

His teeth, and spits,

On his two hands, and grabs, of cours,

Some old remorse,

And beats me with the big but-end

O' that thing—tel my closes friend

"I'd hardly know me." "Now," says he,

"Be keeful as you'd orto be

—And allus think of me!"

AUSTIN'S EGOTISM.

It Crapped Out Strong in Comparing Himself With Tennyson.

Austin might almost be said to rival James McNeil Whistler as having given rise to humorous anecdotes, with this difference, that while the anecdotes of Whistler exalted his wit or his superb arrogance ("Why lug le Velasquez?") those of Austin were based on little more than the famous self esteem which enabled him of ability in the words in 1870, in his volume of so called criticism, "The Poetry of the Period," to attack Tennyson, Browning, Matthew Arnold and Swinburne as if the author of the book were the superior of the whole pack of them.

It was apparently not this book, but a later criticism written in 1885, which led Austin to boast of his friendship with Swinburne and to declare that, though he had been forced to criticize Swinburne, the latter had not permitted it to disturb their relations. It proved that Austin's criticism had attracted so little attention that Swinburne had not even heard of it, and when, following Austin's boast, he took pains to read it he became very angry and would have nothing to do with Austin.

It was the same fatuity which led Austin in his autobiography to advertise his own ultra respectability as compared with the possible "low tone" of others. Tennyson might be acquitted perhaps of once using an improper word in conversation, but Tennyson certainly smoked, Austin never.—Springfield Republican.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

It is estimated there are 20,000,000 pounds of new wool in bonded warehouses at present waiting passage of the Tariff Bill.

The new gunboat Colon, now being built at Mare Island navy yard, is to be shipped across the Pacific ocean knocked down and will be re-assembled at Cavite, P. I. Orders were received recently to have the vessel ready by Nov. 7, and a sister vessel also to be turned out at Mare Island, the Monocacy, to be shipped in December.

The two are small, of light draft, and are designed for river service.

The Portland library, of Oregon, has deposit stations covering Multnomah county, and that these stations are well advertised is proved by the following account: "As one rides about the county every few miles may be seen a small blue sign with silver letters, 'P. L. Station' sometimes tacked to a tree in front of a schoolhouse, sometimes disputing honors with Uncle Sam's flag on top of the rural free delivery box, more often attached to the front of a country store. In the most unexpected places and some of the out-of-the-way country roads, the library has found many of its most appreciative patrons."

18 new cadets, admitted to the West Point Academy Friday were the only ones out of 103 candidates passing the examinations for entrance to the United States military academy July 1.

The new class will swell the total number in the corps to 100.

The establishment of a home school as a part of Cincinnati school system has been recommended to the board of education by Supt. Randall Condon and approved by the board. The superintendent is authorized "to rent or lease a suitable house, to equip properly the same and to organize a home school for teaching girls in a more effective manner, household and home duties."

The fad of sending eggs by parcel post is well known at the White House, where numerous packages of them are received usually in dozen lots. The eggs carry in good shape although it is doubtful if the President ever breakfasts on them. Considerable maple syrup from the New England states has been received some of which, it is said about the executive office, found its way to the White House table. The champion cheesemaker of each section of the country constantly enrich the White House with contributions of prize varieties. Butter makers come in for a letter of thanks when they forward to the President a pound or two of their product, while the champion bread makers from different parts of the country have gone so far as to go into the White House kitchens and positively prove that the loaf, forwarded from Iowa or Maine is genuine. Thousands of manufacturers are constantly sending samples and many advertising managers have attempted to twist the courteous note received in acknowledgment, into a letter of recommendation.

ATTACKS FREE WOOL

Washington, Aug. 2. Another day in the senate set apart for consideration of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill was consumed mostly by debate, and little progress was made on the bill. Senator Catron of New Mexico made a formal speech, devoting it mostly to condemning free wool. Senator Catron is a Republican, but he declared the Democrats in the western states where sheepmen abound and wool is produced were of one voice with the Republicans in condemning free wool.

REPUBLICANS MAY BOLT

Leaders Opposed to Choice of Mitchell as Fusion Nominee For Mayor.

New York, Aug. 2.—The feature of the political situation in New York is the prospect of a Republican bolt. The Republican leaders commented bitterly on the choice of John Purroy Mitchell as the fusion nominee. They charged that extraneous influences had been exerted against Charles S. Whitman and had procured his defeat. Whether a bolt occurs will depend solely on Mr. Whitman's conclusions as to his chances of election as a Republican candidate. The Republican leaders said that neither they nor Mr. Whitman owe the fusion committee the smallest consideration. They regard Mr. Mitchell as a weak candidate.

Prosecutor Turner Declares He Will Fight the Attempt.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—Recommendation that Rodney J. Diegel, former sergeant-at-arms in the state senate, should be pardoned on Aug. 10, when ex-Senator L. B. Andrews of Lawrence county leaves the penitentiary, was instituted by Lieutenant Governor Hugh L. Nelson and Attorney General Thomas C. C. Smith. They declared that Diegel's sentence had been merely that of a technicality, and as he had no vote in the senate, his release would be a mere technicality. The recommendation was made by the governor's committee on pardons. The committee also recommended that the governor should release Diegel. The governor, however, will reserve the attempt to release Diegel. He declared he would fight the attempt. He declared that Diegel had received money to leave the penitentiary, and should be kept in the penitentiary until he shows some real penitence. He declared that he would not release Diegel until he shows some real penitence.

GOMEZ AROUSED

President of Venezuela Assumes the Powers of Dictator.

Caracas, Venezuela, Aug. 2.—That the revolt started several days ago by adherents of Cipriano Castro, the deposed president of Venezuela, has reached a stage which has inspired the government with fears of a general uprising against the Gomez administration, was indicated when the federal council authorized President Gomez to assume dictatorial powers until the movement is crushed. General Gomez sent a circular to the governors of all the states informing them that the Castro faction is in armed rebellion and asking them for cooperation to quell the revolt.

Fights between the forces of the state governments and the rebels are reported from the Colombian border and the eastern part of Venezuela. General Rosendo Gonzalez invaded the state of Tachira from Colombia, but was defeated by General Romero and forced to retreat. General Torres Castro, a nephew of the former dictator, entered Venezuelan territory from the sea and attacked the city of Maracaibo, but was defeated by government troops.

News has been received here of the departure from Caracas of General Simon Bolivar Castro's brother-in-law, with a force of troops toward a stronghold in the Venezuelan coast.

They Can't Vote Yet, But They Can Paint.
These Suffragists Show How It's Done.

While suffragist couriers from all parts of the Union were invading Washington to pay their respects to congress a band of the faithful remained at home at Tompkinsville, N. Y., off which warships often anchor when they visit New York harbor, and painted. Now, when you say a woman paints it is politic to qualify your meaning, no matter whether she is a suffragist or not. These votes for women advocates turned painters in real truth. Donning overalls, bloomers or old skirts, with hats firmly pinned on, they attacked their clubhouse and painted and painted under a red hot sun just like mere men. They climbed ladders and risked their limbs on the slanting roof just as nimbly as any simon pure union painter could have done. What is more, they made a good job of it. The picture shows Miss Elizabeth Degroot in overalls as head painter and Miss Genevieve Merritt in bloomers as assistant foreman of the job.

Reds Stage One of Their Famous Weird Spells.

BECKER ANXIOUS TO QUIT BASEBALL WITH THE HONORS OF HAVING PLAYED WITH EVERY TEAM

Cincinnati, Aug. 2.—Beals Becker, the Philadelphia Nationals' utility outfielder, has one ambition—one that is different from any other ball player. Beals says he wants to retire with the honor of having played with every ball team in the National league. Becker has been in harness

In the week. McLaughlin, who played splendid tennis in the earlier stages of the international matches, seemed to lose his strength for a few days previous to the final trials. However, he came back strong in the deciding matches, and won the international championship in three consecutive sets.

Jimmy Clabby wants it distinctly understood that he has at least as good a claim on the middleweight championship as any of the other contenders for the honor, and is expressing positively ferocious desires to meet either Jack Dillon or Frank Klaus, refusing to consider Eddie McGoorty, whom he considers out of the running. Clabby is waiting for an opportunity to clear up the pugilistic records so far as the middleweights are concerned, and believes he can do it with credit and the title to himself.

OUR DYING SUN.

The time will most surely come when the sun will have ceased to throw off light and heat. Long before that happens, however, the earth and other planets will have become "dead worlds," like the moon, no life of any sort upon them. It has been calculated that the sun will cease to throw out its heat somewhere about 1,000,000 years from now. New York American.

HOW CAN YOU, HORACE?

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—Horace S. Fogel, late Philadelphia baseball magnate, is here to meet the Federal league magnates and discuss expansion plans for next season. Fogel, who still feels that he was unjustly kicked out of organized baseball, is said to be anxious to get revenge by backing the "outlaws."

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, Aug. 2, 1913.

Because the Reds have been in a slump the greater part of the season is no reason to suppose that Manager Tinker is going to allow them to finish the race indifferently. Not in a million years. Manager Joe has been casting about for all sorts of material wherewith to bolster up the team in spots where the goods have not been delivered, and by the time the boys return home from their Eastern trip there will be some young talent added to the payroll. While the pitching department is receiving special attention, every other portion of the team is being considered. In the matter of strengthening, with the result that the club's scouts in the names of some exceedingly nifty bushers who have been discovered in various portions of the back country. "Our team is made up of good men right now," said Manager Tinker the other day, "but the real combination isn't there, and we're out now to get men that will fit." And there will be a lot of them to report by the first of September.

The Reds have been perilously near the seventh place several times during the past few weeks but every time they were about ready to step ahead of the Cardinals, their feet would slip, and back they would go to the old position.

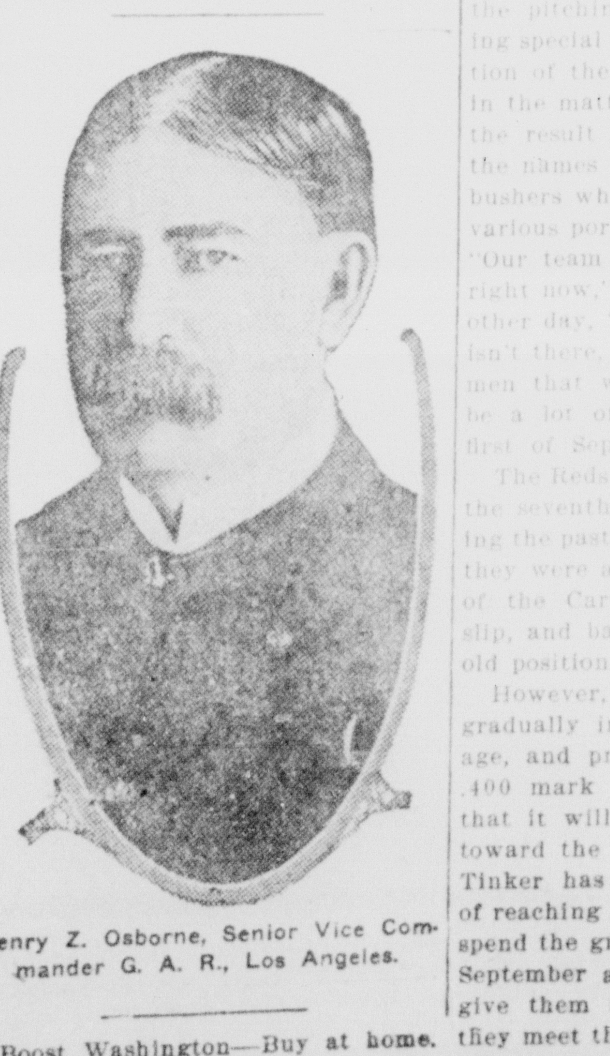

However, they are snaking forward gradually in the matter of percentage, and promise to crawl over the .400 mark almost any time. After that it will be a hard pull upward toward the .500 mark, but Manager Tinker has not yet given up hope of reaching that goal. The Reds will spend the greater part of August and September at home, which also will give them a hunch. Next Sunday they meet the Bostons, while on Sunday, August 10, they have the New Yorks for opponents, this being the last Sabbath appearance of the Giants this season.

Nothing has happened in base ball circles during the past week to lead to the belief that any team in the National League but the New Yorks has a chance for the pennant. The prediction made by Manager McGraw of the New Yorks some ten days ago, that he expected the Chicago Cubs to win a fight for the flag, has not been justified by recent performances of the Cubs. The Phillies continue to hold a fairly good lead in second place, and may be expected to finish there, although there are reports of internal discussions that may drag them farther down before the finish. Pittsburgh has been going along without creating much fuss, and there is hope on the part of the Brooklynns that they will beat out the Pirates after all.

They're trying a new stunt in connection with motor cycle riding. The invention is that of an Akron man, and is called "motorcycle jumping." The modus operandi is somewhat on the order of the ski jumping in that the course is laid out with a sort of offset which the motorcycle hits, jumps into the air, and then shoots through the air for a considerable distance, finally hitting the track again at some distance from the jumping off place. It is said that the position of the rider on the seat governs to some extent the distance of the flight, and that fairly long distances are already being covered by the experimenters.

America has brought back the Dwight Davis Tennis Cup, after seeing it hooked about between England and Australia for quite a number of years. The trophy was won back to Uncle Sam for a year at least by Maurice McLaughlin, the California crack, who wrested it from the English holder at Wimbledon early
